Description

Our products are natural, hypoallergenic and don't contain preservatives and colors. Our products are auto preservative 24 months and one year after opened. They contain a series of characteristics that are not always available in 'normal' cosmetics. Not only characteristics relative to the product, but also to the production and the packaging: our company is also engaged to produce cosmetics respecting the atmosphere and using recyclable packaging. We represent therefore the ideal choice for sensitive and ecological women. Our products are also indicated for those having a delicate and easy irritable skin, since they don't contain neither conserving nor chemical impurity, like the nickel that can often provoke to irritations and allergic phenomena.
